

Separating?

JOIN US

— for our —

online workshops

BFLC
BRISBANE
FAMILY LAW
CENTRE

the happy family lawyer.com

Have you recently separated and want to gain some understanding of family law ?

Or perhaps you are already negotiating your matter & would like to better educate yourself and those around you ?

The BFLC Workshop series is designed for just these purposes.

Director, Clarissa Rayward, will present to you in plain English the key topics you need to understand when navigating your family law matter. You can register for only those workshops that are relevant for your situation, or the complete series. If you can't attend the workshop live, you will be sent an email after the workshop with a link to the recording so you can watch it at time that suits you.

At BFLC we genuinely believe that better education in relation to family law matters will lead to better outcomes for families.

Topics for July and August include:

- Arrangements for your children after separation: what you need to know
- Arrangements for your property after separation: What you need to know
- The who, what, when, where and why of mediation
- Looking after yourself after separation and divorce

$39 per workshop

Coming to a screen near you!

Register
now!

www.bflc.com.au

Date	Time	Topic	Description
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		Be the hero you child dreams of!	Arrangements for children after separation - what you need to know If you have separated, have children and don't know where to begin, this workshop is for you. We will cover- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The common mistakes parents make when navigating the legal system • How you can support your children after separation • The legal principles that you need to know • How you can reach agreements • Your legal options for formalising parenting arrangements
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		Show me the Money! I just want the house!	Arrangements for your finances & property after separation - what you need to know If you have separated, have children and don't know where to begin, this workshop is for you. We will cover- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The common mistakes parents make when navigating the legal system • How you can support your children after separation • The legal principles that you need to know • How you can reach agreements • Your legal options for formalising parenting arrangements
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		Going to Mediation? - The Who, What, Where and Why of Mediation - why you would attend and how best to prepare.	It seems that almost every separating family finds themselves attending at some form of mediation, so what better time to learn as much as you can! This workshop will help you to better understand how mediation works, what to expect and how you can best prepare. This workshop is ideal if you are considering, or are going to mediation in relation to your family law matter.
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		When life gives you lemons, make margaritas! Looking after yourself after separation and divorce	After helping over 2,000 families with their divorce and separation we have learned that the key to resolving your legal issues and moving forward is the ability to look after yourself after your relationship breakdown. In this workshop we will assist you to understand how to best look after yourself and your family if you find yourself in this situation
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		So you're going to Court? - what you need to know and how best to prepare when appearing in the Family Courts	If you find yourself having to go to the Family Courts it may feel like you have stepped into a mysterious land. It is a place of formality, procedure and at times a 'strange legal language'. This workshop will provide you with what you need to know when you are going to Court, including how best to prepare, what to expect when you get there and how to find solutions that will keep your family out of the Courts.
Now accessible online At www.bflc.com.au/shop		Supporting your children after separation	If you have separated & have children, their wellbeing will be one of your highest priorities. In this workshop we discuss how to best support your children through your separation, to minimise any adverse impact upon them
Tuesday, 14 October	12.30pm	So you need a Consent Order? The who, what, when, where and why of Consent Orders- a must for separating couples.	Consent Orders? Heard that term before? If you are documenting an agreement around your children or property chances are you will need a Consent Order. In this workshop we will run through the process involved in drafting and applying for a Consent Order whether it be for parenting or financial matters.
Tuesday, 21 October	12.30pm	Show me the Money!	How can a Financial Planner help you during and after separation? John Duncan, financial planner and owner of True Financial will join us for this workshop to discuss how a financial planner can assist your family with the division of finances during separation and get you back on your feet thereafter.
Wednesday, 29 October	12.30pm	Parenting Plan? What are they and do you need one? Useful tips for separating parents.	If you are trying to parent after separation a Parenting Plan is a great way to document any agreements you and your spouse reach. In this workshop we will look at how you can prepare a parenting plan, when you might use them and what you need to know before entering into one.
Tuesday, 11 November	12.30pm	A Family Report? What is it and why would I need one?	If you are trying to sort out arrangements for your children after your separation you may have heard the phrase 'Family Report' mentioned. In this workshop we will discuss what a Family Report is, when and how they are used, and whether it is something you should consider in your circumstances.
Wednesday, 19 November	12.30pm	How to Separate and Stay out of Court and Stay friends	Whilst you may have separated from your partner, it may still be very important to you that you maintain a good relationship for the future, and for the sake of your children. In this workshop we will give you the information you need to separate and help your family, particularly your children, navigate your divorce in a way that ensures you can still work together as parents into the future.
Wednesday, 3 December	12.30pm	I've just separated - what do I need to know?	Just separated? Not sure what to do now? This workshop will provide you with the information you need to start resolving the legal aspects of your separation along with important tips on how you can best support yourself after your separation.